

CALIFORNIA'S RETURN TO WORK WEBINAR

On January 25-27, 2021, the California Workforce Association, in partnership with the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency, the Employment Development Department, and the California Division of Occupational Safety and Health (Cal/OSHA), will host a series of California's Return to Work webinars to provide vital workplace safety information to businesses throughout California.

The two-hour interactive session is designed to give employers and workforce professionals the latest information on how to provide a safe workplace for employees and customers and will include a question and answer period with experts. The session will cover the following topics:

- Return-to-Work requirements from Cal/OSHA for workplace safety evaluation of the Coronavirus (COVID-19) hazards.
- Identifying and responding to COVID-19 cases in the workplace.
- Physical distancing and personal protective equipment.
- Unemployment Insurance, Disability Insurance, Paid Family Leave, and Workers' Compensation.

Webinars will be provided for the following groups:

Business Organizations

This session is geared specifically for businesses, business organizations, and chambers of commerce.

Workforce Professionals

This session is geared for Business Service and Rapid Response Professionals from workforce organizations and other workforce program stakeholders.

Visit the California's Return-to-Work Webinars webpage to register and learn more about the event. Please share these no cost webinars with those who may be interested in participating.

/s/ JAIME L. GUTIERREZ, Chief
Central Office Workforce Services Division

The EDD is an equal opportunity employer/program. Auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities.